DEMAND CAUSES COMPILATION OF FIGURES OF VALUE.

SOME CROPS THAT PAY

Helpful Hen Heads the List—Chance For Many More Dairy Farmers—Many Opportunities Here.

Commercial clubs of the state are urging men of moderate means who are earning a scant living in the larger cities to take up some of the desirable unimproved lands of Missouri, become farmers, and prosperous. This "call of the farm" has reached such a stage that the Missouri bureau of labor statistics is being appealed to from everywhere to supply information on the lines of farming which are generally followed in this state, and therefore supposed to pay best.

The answer to these requests is a statistical bulletin, issued today by Commissioner John T. Fitzpatrick, which is extensive enough to cover all phases of the question.

A comparison of money deposits made chiefly by farmers in state bank institutions, outside of St. Louis, Kansas City and St. Joseph, between 1895 and 1913, a period of eighteen years, tells the story of the increase in prosperity of rural Missouri probably better than any other line of statistics could. Eighteen years ago 572 state banking institutions' deposits aggregated $73,963,967, probably half of which belonged to the rural inhabitants of Missouri. In 1913 there were 1,211 banking institutions with deposits of $154,410,181, or about 98 per cent more than what they were for the entire state in 1895. The increase for farmers alone is probably 150 per cent. So much for the wealth of rural Missouri.

Poultry is a commodity now produced on every one of the state's 277,244 farms, averaging 124.8 acres each. Missouri's annual production of poultry and eggs is now worth $100,000,000, with half of the production, worth $50,000,000, sold every year outside of the producing counties as surplus. The deduction—poultry raising pays in Missouri.

Corn is next in the number of farms reporting it as one of the chief yearly commodities. A total of 241,192 farms devote from 7,114,000 to 7,350,000 acres to this staple annually, the total yearly yield running from 191,500,000 to 235,000,000 bushels, worth from $97,500,000 to $120,000,000. The deduction—corn growing pays in Missouri.

Oats, 80,308 farms report an acreage of 1,073,325, producing 24,828,501 bushels, worth $10,253,990.

Then 79,757 farms report 2,017,128 acres in wheat, yielding 29,837,429 bushels, worth $29,926,209; 1,811,662 farms report 3,628,348 acres in timothy, clover, alfalfa, millet, Hungarian, wild, salt, prairie and other hays and forage, with a yield of 4,091,342 tons, worth $33,845,094.

Other general farm commodities through which farmers are making money follows:

Potatoes—185,790 farms; acreage, 96,259; production, 7,796,410 bushels, worth $4,470,135.

Sweet potatoes and yams—36,258 farms; acreage, 7,938; production, 876,234 bushels; worth $567,413.

Tobacco—6,400 farms, acreage, 7;500; production (normal year), 7,500,000 pounds, worth $750,000.

Cotton—7,296 farms; acreage, 96,527; production, 54,000 to 60,000 bales of lint and 27,000 to 35,000 tons of seed; worth, aggregated, from $3,000,000 to $4,500,000.

Broom corn—1,225 farms; 5,339 acres; yield, 1,774,536 pounds; worth $115,243.

The value of the annual output of fruits and nuts of Missouri runs from $7,000,000 to $12,000,000, with the supply never equaling the demand, especially as to strawberries, cantaloupes, peaches, pears and raspberries.

The annual forest products of farms, such as railroad ties, lumber, cordwood, roots, etc., now sell for about $10,000,000. The quantity could easily be doubled without exceeding the demand, since Missouri is constantly called upon by other states to meet their shortage in some of the commodities included in this list.

Regardless of 242,000 farms of Missouri raising vegetables for the market annually worth $13,000,000, the crop never equals the home demand; St. Louis, Kansas City, St. Joseph and other cities calling upon other states to meet their shortage and at a fancy figure. There is plenty of room in the state for more truck farmers, and that this industry yields huge returns on the capital invested and the efforts put forth is indicated.

The berry crop of Missouri is only a third of what it ought to be. The production of 23,000 farms, which devoted an acre or over to berries, included 15,171,000 quarts of strawberries, selling for $1,132,784, and 6,392,000 quarts of black and dewberries ,worth $456,500.

The wool crop of Missouri, 1913, was 7,087,500 pounds, worth, washed and unwashed, $1,420,000. Yet only 1,050,000 sheep were sheared out of 1,250,000 on 43,400 farms. Every farm in Missouri ought to raise sheep. In the Ozark region there are 5,000,000 acres of unimproved land highly suitable for profitable sheep and goat raising, not considering the possibilities of other live stock, dairying, orcharding and poultry raising, selling from $3 to $30 an acre, according to location. This extensive area turned into sheep ranches would easily support 10,000,000 head and Missouri's annual crop of wool would increase to 70,000,000 pounds and be worth over $13,000,000. Such are the possibilities of the Ozarks alone.

It is estimated that Missouri consumes 275,000,000 gallons of milk every year, worth at 20 cents a gallon, $55,000,000. For 245,403 farms reporting 856,430 head of dairy cows, the milk production is given at 188,300,000 gallons. This was 87,000,000 less than the actual demand of the state, causing St. Louis, Kansas City, St. Joseph and two or three other large consuming cities to draw on other states for the difference. The state produces 42,000,000 pounds of butter yearly, which is 37,000,000 pounds short of the consumption. More dairy farms would pay.

Communication

For Alex Fraser.

Editor Democrat-Forum: I wish to say a few words through the columns of your paper in behalf of our friend Mr. Alex Fraser, who has announced himself as a candidate for recorder. Mr. Fraser is a straight forward gentleman, fully competent to fulfill the duties of this office, and on account of his vast personal acquaintance in the east half of the county, where he has resided since a small boy, we of the east side think he will carry more votes than any other candidate, and we therefore ask the voters of the next Democratic primary to support his candidacy. Several different men as candidates for this office have been mentioned and they are all good men, of course, and I have not a word to say against them, but we are for Alex over here, and if we don't get him in line for the office it won't be our fault. Mr. Fraser has many friends in the county and we think he will make an excellent race for this office.

SCARE ABOUT OVER

BUT IT WAS THOUGHT BEST TO KEEP THE BAN ON.

FOURTEEN CASES IN CITY

All in a Light Form—Ban to Be Lifted on Friday and Schools Will Resume Next Week.

While the authorities believe that the scarlet fever situation is under control and that there is no danger, it was decided best this morning to still keep the schools, churches and other public places of amusement closed until Friday night. There was some talk of opening these places Wednesday, but it was thought by keeping the ban on for the next three days that it would prevent the further spread of the disease. Every precaution necessary is being taken, and by Friday it is believed that the scare will be a thing of the past. Friday is the last day of the ten-day period for which Mayor Robey ordered all places to be closed.

There were two new cases of scarlet fever reported this morning. They were in the family of Mrs. Harry Shipps of West First street. It is thought that they were exposed at a party given at the Shipps home on Friday, March 13, several days before the mayor's proclamation. At this party was Miss Margaret Chilton, who took down sick with the disease a few days after at the home of her grandmother, near Stanberry.

All of the cases are in a mild form. The families that are under quarantine on account of scarlet fever are Bert Harrison, where there is one case; M. H. Pearson, where there are six cases; John Gray, where there is one case; J. J. Wells, where there is one case; W. H. Crawford, where there is one case; Cooper Gooden, where there is one case; George Moore, where there is one case, and Mrs. Harry Shipps, where there are two cases.

Farewell to Pollard Family.

Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Pollard and Miss Leila Wiley were made the honor guests of a surprise party Monday evening by the Rebekah lodge of Barnard, when they were summoned to the lodge hall on a pretext. Dr. Pollard and his family left Tuesday afternoon for their new home in Calhoun, Mo., where the doctor will engage in the practice of medicine. The evening was spent socially, and after the lodge meeting a luncheon of baked chicken, bread and butter, pie, pickles, cream and coffee was served in the dining room. After luncheon the guests called for a speech from Dr. Pollard, who is a famous after-dinner speaker. The departure of this excellent family from Barnard is keenly regretted, but they carry with them the good wishes of the people of the entire community.

Dr. Martin Better Today.

Dr. Vilas Martin spent a very restless night Monday night at St. Francis hospital, where he was operated on Sunday afternoon for a mastoid abscess. He was much improved Tuesday, however, and his physician, Dr. F. R. Anthony, is gratified over his condition.

THE IDES OF MARCH

ARE COME AND MANY NO DOUBT GLAD.

MEANS RESTLESSNESS

Vernal Equinox, Which Makes a Change in All Nature, Human Being Not Excepted.

"The Ides of March are Come," and those superstitious persons who believe as did the people of old that the Ides of March were black days, will be glad they are also gone. At the present day there are few persons superstitious to that extent, though March does mean a time of restlessness and desire for change, to get away from the old routine of things. Perhaps the cause of this is the vernal equinox coming at this time, making a change in all nature, which, of course, includes all human beings. In ancient times the new year began on March 25th, and it was not until 1752 that January was chosen as the beginning of the legal year. Even today Russia still retains the old style, but has it in contemplation to adopt the Gregorian calendar at an early date. March is an important month in many ways. The Jews always celebrate Easter, that is the Passover, on the fourteenth of this month, the Christians in the same month, but always on Sunday. To make it distinctive from the Jewish celebration, Easter was changed and is now solemnized on the Sunday following the first full moon after the vernal equinox. Easter is sometimes in March, but more frequently in April, so the entire month of March is usually submerged in Lent—Lent with its prim, proper ways and straight-laced ideals. One gets a certain sense of satisfaction from being so virtuous, but it really is not the exuberance of joy that one feels when absolutely unrestrained and free from the demands of a suddenly wakeful conscience. However, there is Easter to anticipate, and joy will be all the greater for having been denied it for forty days. How true is the saying that "being good is such a lonesome job." That, too, probably accounts for the restless spirit pervading March. The changeful weather, also, may have something to do with it. Each day has a hundred varying moods—one minute bright and sunny, making the stay-at-homes glad that they did not hasten off to some warmer clime, and the next minute it is blowing and snowing so that one wishes nothing better than to sit close by the fire, basking in warmth and contentment, while listening to the winds wailing and howling outside the windows. However, one forgives all the wintry, stormy days when one little lamb-like day comes along with its breath of spring—trailing in its wake the essence of springtime, exhaling joy and the fragrance of flowers and grass, and all growing things. Spring arrived yesterday—just a little slip of a maid, wistful eyed and shy, frightened by her own temerity. But she had just as glad a welcome—for have not we been waiting all winter long for just this one day—and later she will grow bolder, then winter is not such a stern domineering ruler.—Creston Advertiser-Gazette.

PAPERS AT THAT TIME.

In 1867 Maryville Had Only One Paper, The Gazette.

The Holt county Sentinel of Oregon had the following in their last week's issue:

In 1867 the congressional district in which Holt county was placed was known as the seventh, and was composed of fifteen counties, in which the following papers were published:

Andrew, Era, at Savannah.

Atchison, Union, Herald, Empire, Volksblatt, Vindicator, all of St. Joseph.

DeKalb, Register, at Maysville.

Daviess, North Missourian and Torchlight, at Gallatin.

Gentry, News, at Albany.

Grundy, News, at Trenton.

Holt, Sentinel, at Oregon.

Livingston, Spectator and Constitution, at Chillicothe.

Mercer, Advance, at Princeton.

Nodaway, Gazette, at Maryville.

Putnam, Republican, at Unionville.

Sullivan, Herald, at Milan.

Worth, Enterprise, at Grant City.

This shows a total of twenty-one. Now there are 104 papers published in these counties, as follows:

Andrew, 4; Atchison, 5; Buchanan, 23, all in St. Joseph excepting 2 at Rushville and 1 at DeKalb. Thus Buchanan county alone has more publications at the present than these fifteen counties had in 1867. DeKalb, 7; Daviess, 9; Gentry, 9; Grundy, 5; Holt, 6; Livingston, 5; Mercer, 3; Nodaway, 14; Putnam, 4; Platte, 7; Sullivan, 6; Worth, 4. Outside of Buchanan, Nodaway has the greatest number, and Mercer county has the smallest number, three.

The counties now composing this congressional district, Atchison, Andrew, Buchanan, Holt, Nodaway and Platte, and known as the fourth district, had but ten newspapers in 1867, whereas today there are fifty-nine published in these counties.

Those existing today under the same title that were published in 1867 are the following: Journal, at Rock Port; Volksblatt, at St. Joseph; North Missourian, at Gallatin; News, at Trenton; Sentinel, at Oregon; Constitution, at Chillicothe; Republican, at Unionville.

TO IMPROVE ROADS

OVER $8 A MILE CAN BE USED FOR THIS PURPOSE.

SHOULD DRAG NOW

Townships Are Entitled to Levy Fifty Cents for Road and Bridge Purposes.

Improvement work on the 144 miles of county seat highways will start soon and County Highway Engineer Clary is now making his plans with those who have the contracts for dragging these roads. Over $8 a mile is to be spent for this work, such as grading, opening up the ditches and widening these roads. No money will be spent for improvement work unless the road is forty feet wide. This money is in the fund that was received last year and which was not used for dragging purposes, as the highways were not selected until late in the year. The money for this year will all be used for dragging.

County Highway Engineer Clary is now urging that the dragging work start, as it is the best time to do such work. The hedges are being cut along the highways and the county highway engineer is going to keep after these people who have not cut their hedges until they do. Hedges along roads whether for posts or any other purpose, must be cut and trimmed according to the law.

Townships are entitled to levy an additional tax of 25 cents on the hundred dollars for roads and bridges, making in all fifty cents they can levy. Then ten cents is received from the county. The regular township levy for roads and bridges is twenty-five cents, and the section of law in regard to the additional levy of twenty-five cents is as follows:

"The township board of directors of any township in any county which is under township organization may, annually, in their discretion, at the same time and in the same manner as taxes are now required by law to be levied for county purposes, levy an annual tax in addition to those now authorized by law in any amount not exceeding 25 cents on each one hundred dollars valuation on all property subject to taxation in such township, to be known as a special road and bridge tax."

The township boards at their annual meetings to be held in April make their road and bridge levy.

DOING GRADING WORK.

The East and North Terrace of Court House Yard Being Sloped Back Sixteen Feet.

Work started Tuesday on grading the east and north terrace of the court house yard so as to make a sloping grade back from the sidewalk. It will extend sixteen feet from the walk. As soon as the grading is done, then the sod work will be done under the direction of Doc Mozingo.

The county court at their April meeting will let the contract for building four cement sidewalks from the four corners of the yard. When the grading work is done and the sidewalks are built, the court house yard will present an attractive appearance.

English Epigrams.

The conversation of women may not be as interesting as that of men, but there is more of it.

It is when riches take unto themselves wings that they feather other people's nests.

The man who has everything in his wife's name hasn't any confidence in himself.

The best way to make a man trust you is to trust him with some unimportant little secret.

It isn't the man who will stick at nothing, but the man who will stick to one thing who wins in the long run.—London Tatler.

Some Extremes in Nutrition.

Amid all the discussion at present regarding the food requirements of healthy man it is interesting to compare the extremes which come to light in different parts of the world. Nothing can more effectively warn against dogmatic statements about our dietary needs than the recital of two entirely unlike experiences which have lately been published. The Danish physiologists, August and Marie Krogh, organized an expedition not long ago to investigate the dietary habits of the Eskimos at the island of Disco in western Greenland. The normal ration of these people contains enormous quantities of meat. The eating habits of the Eskimo approach those of varnivorous animals. The periods are irregular and somewhat infrequent, the meal occasionally being extended to the utmost capacity of the stomach. Despite this we are told that no nutritive disorders are apparent aside from boils and frequent nose-bleeding in the periods of overliberal eating. The physical endurance of Eskimos nourished in this way is conspicuous, as is their resistance to the rigors of the climate. The highest food consumption actually measured by the Kroghs was nearly four pounds of boiled meat in one day. This is said to be far below a record figure, however.

The other extreme is reported by Hindhede in Copenhagen. His subject was able to maintain himself in excellent efficiency for months on a diet of potatoes and margarin. The amount of potato was extremely large, amounting to four pounds a day, which few persons could manage to consume day after day. When hard work had to be performed it was necessary to increase the potato to eight pounds or more per day, with liberal additions of fat.

In the face of these extremes, says the Journal of the American Medical Association, one may well inquire whether many of the rigid rules and dietary dicta of physicians who adhere to "systems of diet" have a justification in fact. Obviously the adaptability of the human body to wide ranges of food possibilities is considerable. It is, of course, desirable to learn the limits which one cannot overstep with safety. When once these are established, however, there is usually left free play for the application of common sense, judgment and individual preferences in times of health and disease.

There were 141 voting delegates present and many visitors in attendance. Track Meet and Bridal Shower.

The Merry Minglers club had the "time of its life" Saturday evening at the home of Miss Ruth Ramey of Arkoe, when they met and enjoyed an evening of unusual pleasure. The evening opened with a track meet, in which all the members of the club participated, and ended with a shower for one of its members, Mrs. Theodore Boyer, formerly Miss Ona Woodward, who had become a bride since the club's last meeting. For the track meet the club members were equally divided, one-half representing the Arkoe high school and the other half the Maryville Normal training school. They contested for the standing broad grin, thirty-inch dash, shot-put and hammer throw. The Arkoe high school was victorious and was awarded a silver loving cup. At the close of this event a miscellaneous shower was given Mrs. Boyer, the principal guest of the evening. The shower consisted of many beautiful and useful presents. The guests departed declaring Miss Ramey, their new member, a royal entertainer.

VILLA CAPTURES GOMEZ PALACIO

Velasco Comes Out of Torreon Trying to Check Invaders.

HOT FIGHTING IS IN PROGRESS

Rebel Wounded in Large Numbers Borne to El Verjel—Insurrectos Occupy Lerdo—They Capture Place Almost Without Resistance.

Juarez, Mex., March 24.—It was reported that General Velasco came out of Torreon in force and that Gomez Palacio was being made the point of main contention. General Villa was said to have captured 300 prisoners. His wounded, it was also reported, were being brought back from the front to El Verjel in large numbers.

Fighting of the most sanguinary character occurred in the streets of Gomez Palacio. The rebels took the water tank on Cerrero de la Pilar, the Brittingham soap factory and the cuartel.

The cuartel caught fire and the rebels were compelled to abadnon it. The battle is reported still in progress. Streams of wounded are being brought to the field hospital at Verjel and as fast as possible being sent back to the general hospital at Bermejillo. Losses on both sides are reported heavy, but General Villa says the town is now practically his.

The real attack on Torreon began when General Villa occupied Lerdo, practically without resistance.

Approved in Washington.

Washington, March 24.—Frank approval of the action of the American troopers who returned the fire of Mexican federals at Del Rio was expressed here in official circles.

BULLETS FLY IN PARIS COURT

Three Shots Fired at Judges by Madame Lavigne.

Paris, March 24.—Mme. Lavigne de Saint-Suzanne, wife of a high official of the ministry of colonies, fired three shots at the judges sitting in the sixth chamber of the palace of justice. No one was hit by the bullets. At the moment she fired she shrieked: "I will kill these base judges."

The shooting occurred during the hearing of a divorce case, in which she was a witness. One of the attorneys had just alluded to the despair of some wives who were unable to obtain justice, when the woman opened fire.

Hunt for Youth Who Killed Girl.

Moberly, Mo., March 24.—One hundred men searched the country surrounding Moberly for Victor Roberts, the youth who shot and killed Miss Jessie Davall, his sixteen-year-old sweetheart. A coroner's jury gave a verdict declaring Roberts the girl's murderer. The friends of the girl and her blind father made threats of lynching if Roberts is captured. Jealousy is said to have caused Roberts to shoot the girl.

Seattle, March 24.—A jury in the United States district court returned a verdict against the Southern Pacific Railroad company for $12,000 damages in the case of a youth thrown off a passenger train while stealing a ride. St. Louis, March 24.—The coroner's jury that investigated the death of thirty persons in the Missouri Athletic club fire two weeks ago could not fix the blame for the disaster, the jury reported, because the city ordinances do not provide for the regulation of buildings used for club purposes.

Weighty Resolutions.

The fondness of the negro race to have as many committees as possible at all their conventions and the predilection of the committeemen for adopting resolutions, is widely known. A Puebloan, in speaking of this recently told of a committee which had been appointed by an Afro-American church down south. This committee was to determine what to do about a large leak which had appeared in the roof of the church building. The chairman, in making his report the following Sunday, read:

Resolved, That we, the committee on repairs, do find that a big hole has come in the top of the meetin' house; and,

Resolved, That the rain pours down through it on the just and the unjust; and,

Resolved, That this congregation has no money to repair the big hole at this time; and,

Resolved, That this congregation has no money for buildin' a new meetin' house; therefore, be it

Resolved, That this congregation stay whar it am, an' quit kickin' 'bout what de Lord done sen' us.—Pueblo Chieftain.

Facts About Western Canada

The farmer of today is recognized as a business man and puts himself on the pay roll at a salary beyond the dreams of the average man in the city, and he pays dividends on his investment.

Nowhere is he in a better position to realize the full profit of this condition than in Western Canada, with the rich productive soil at small cost and splendid markets; realizing from 40 to 100 per cent on his investment and obtaining the independence that cannot belong to any other business man.

The 433,000,000 bushel grain crop of Saskatchewan and Alberta yielded $235,000,000 to the farmers last year. This represents the partial yield of less than 15 per cent of the available land under cultivation. Millions upon millions of acres of the finest arable land in the world awaits the plough—YOUR PLOUGH.

The annual increase in the world's population establishes an ever-growing market, and nowhere can you find more ideal conditions for grain raising than Western Canada affords. Grain growing, however, is but one item in the success of the Canadian farmer.

Our first excursion to this country of opportunity will be April 7th. For rates and terms see

DEMAND CAUSES COMPILATION OF FIGURES OF VALUE.

SOME CROPS THAT PAY

Helpful Hen Heads the List—Chance For Many More Dairy Farmers—Many Opportunities Here.

Commercial clubs of the state are urging men of moderate means who are earning a scant living in the larger cities to take up some of the desirable unimproved lands of Missouri, become farmers and prosperous. This "call of the farm" has reached such a stage that the Missouri bureau of labor statistics is being appealed to from everywhere to supply information on the lines of farming which are generally followed in this state, and therefore supposed to pay best.

The answer to these requests is a statistical bulletin, issued today by Commissioner John T. Fitzpatrick, which is extensive enough to cover all phases of the question.

A comparison of money deposits made chiefly by farmers in state bank institutions, outside of St. Louis, Kansas City and St. Joseph, between 1895 and 1913, a period of eighteen years, tells the story of the increase in prosperity of rural Missouri probably better than any other line of statistics could. Eighteen years ago 572 state banking institutions' deposits aggregated $73,963,967, probably half of which belonged to the rural inhabitants of Missouri. In 1913 there were 1,211 banking institutions with deposits of $154,410,181, or about 98 per cent more than what they were for the entire state in 1895. The increase for farmers alone is probably 150 per cent. So much for the wealth of rural Missouri.

Poultry is a commodity now produced on every one of the state's 277,244 farms, averaging 124.8 acres each. Missouri's annual production of poultry and eggs is now worth $100,000,000, with half of the production, worth $50,000,000, sold every year outside of the producing counties as surplus. The deduction—poultry raising pays in Missouri.

Corn is next in the number of farms reporting it as one of the chief yearly commodities. A total of 241,192 farms devote from 7,114,000 to 7,350,000 acres to this staple annually, the total yearly yield running from 191,500,000 to 235,000,000 bushels, worth from $97,500,000 to $120,000,000. The deduction—corn growing pays in Missouri.

Oats, 80,308 farms report an acreage of 1,073,325, producing 24,828,501 bushels, worth $10,253,990.

Then 79,757 farms report 2,017,128 acres in wheat, yielding 29,837,429 bushels, worth $29,926,209; 1,811,662 farms report 3,628,348 acres in timothy, clover, alfalfa, millet, Hungarian, wild, salt, prairie and other hays and forage, with a yield of 4,091,342 tons, worth $33,845,094.

Other general farm commodities through which farmers are making money follows:

Potatoes—185,790 farms; acreage, 96,259; production, 7,796,410 bushels, worth $4,470,135.

Sweet potatoes and yams—36,258 farms; acreage, 7,938; production, 876,234 bushels; worth $567,413.

Tobacco—6,400 farms, acreage, 7;500; production (normal year), 7,500,000 pounds, worth $750,000.

Cotton—7,296 farms; acreage, 96,527; production, 54,000 to 60,000 bales of lint and 27,000 to 35,000 tons of seed; worth, aggregated, from $3,000,000 to $4,500,000.

Broom corn—1,225 farms; 5,339 acres; yield, 1,774,536 pounds; worth $115,243.

The value of the annual output of fruits and nuts of Missouri runs from $7,000,000 to $12,000,000, with the supply never equaling the demand, especially as to strawberries, cantaloupes, peaches, pears and raspberries.

The annual forest products of farms, such as railroad ties, lumber, cordwood, roots, etc., now sell for about $10,000,000. The quantity could easily be doubled without exceeding the demand, since Missouri is constantly called upon by other states to meet their shortage in some of the commodities included in this list.

Regardless of 242,000 farms of Missouri raising vegetables for the market annually worth $13,000,000, the crop never equals the home demand; St. Louis, Kansas City, St. Joseph and other cities calling upon other states to meet their shortage and at a fancy figure. There is plenty of room in the state for more truck farmers, and that this industry yields huge returns on the capital invested and the efforts put forth is indicated.

The berry crop of Missouri is only a third of what it ought to be. The production of 23,000 farms, which devoted an acre or over to berries, included 15,171,000 quarts of strawberries, selling for $1,132,784, and 6,392,000 quarts of black and dewberries ,worth $456,500.

The wool crop of Missouri, 1913, was 7,087,500 pounds, worth, washed and unwashed, $1,420,000. Yet only 1,050,000 sheep were sheared out of 1,250,000 on 43,400 farms. Every farm in Missouri ought to raise sheep. In the Ozark region there are 5,000,000 acres of unimproved land highly suitable for profitable sheep and goat raising, not considering the possibilities of other live stock, dairying, orcharding and poultry raising, selling from $3 to $30 an acre, according to location. This extensive area turned into sheep ranches would easily support 10,000,000 head and Missouri's annual crop of wool would increase to 70,000,000 pounds and be worth over $13,000,000. Such are the possibilities of the Ozarks alone.

It is estimated that Missouri consumes 275,000,000 gallons of milk every year, worth at 20 cents a gallon, $55,000,000. For 245,403 farms reporting 856,430 head of dairy cows, the milk production is given at 188,300,000 gallons. This was 87,000,000 less than the actual demand of the state, causing St. Louis, Kansas City, St. Joseph and two or three other large consuming cities to draw on other states for the difference. The state produces 42,000,000 pounds of butter yearly, which is 37,000,000 pounds short of the consumption. More dairy farms would pay.

Communication

For Alex Fraser.

Editor Democrat-Forum: I wish to say a few words through the columns of your paper in behalf of our friend Mr. Alex Fraser, who has announced himself as a candidate for recorder. Mr. Fraser is a straight forward gentleman, fully competent to fulfill the duties of this office, and on account of his vast personal acquaintance in the east half of the county, where he has resided since a small boy, we of the east side think he will carry more votes than any other candidate, and we therefore ask the voters of the next Democratic primary to support his candidacy. Several different men as candidates for this office have been mentioned and they are all good men, of course, and I have not a word to say against them, but we are for Alex over here, and if we don't get him in line for the office it won't be our fault. Mr. Fraser has many friends in the county and we think he will make an excellent race for this office.

THOMAS F. TALLON.

SCARE ABOUT OVER

BUT IT WAS THOUGHT BEST TO KEEP THE BAN ON.

FOURTEEN CASES IN CITY

All in a Light Form—Ban to Be Lifted on Friday and Schools Will Resume Next Week.

While the authorities believe that the scarlet fever situation is under control and that there is no danger, it was decided best this morning to still keep the schools, churches and other public places of amusement closed until Friday night. There was some talk of opening these places Wednesday, but it was thought by keeping the ban on for the next three days that it would prevent the further spread of the disease. Every precaution necessary is being taken, and by Friday it is believed that the scare will be a thing of the past. Friday is the last day of the ten-day period for which Mayor Robey ordered all places to be closed.

There were two new cases of scarlet fever reported this morning. They were in the family of Mrs. Harry Shipps of West First street. It is thought that they were exposed at a party given at the Shipps home on Friday, March 13, several days before the mayor's proclamation. At this party was Miss Margaret Chilton, who took down sick with the disease a few days after at the home of her grandmother, near Stanberry.

All of the cases are in a mild form. The families that are under quarantine on account of scarlet fever are Bert Harrison, where there is one case; M. H. Pearson, where there are six cases; John Gray, where there is one case; J. J. Wells, where there is one case; W. H. Crawford, where there is one case; Cooper Gooden, where there is one case; George Moore, where there is one case, and Mrs. Harry Shipps, where there are two cases.

Farewell to Pollard Family.

Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Pollard and Miss Leila Wiley were made the honor guests of a surprise party Monday evening by the Rebekah lodge of Barnard, when they were summoned to the lodge hall on a pretext. Dr. Pollard and his family left Tuesday afternoon for their new home in Calhoun, Mo., where the doctor will engage in the practice of medicine. The evening was spent socially, and after the lodge meeting a luncheon of baked chicken, bread and butter, pie, pickles, cream and coffee was served in the dining room. After luncheon the guests called for a speech from Dr. Pollard, who is a famous after-dinner speaker. The departure of this excellent family from Barnard is keenly regretted, but they carry with them the good wishes of the people of the entire community.

Dr. Martin Better Today.

Dr. Vilas Martin spent a very restless night Monday night at St. Francis hospital, where he was operated on Sunday afternoon for a mastoid abscess. He was much improved Tuesday, however, and his physician, Dr. F. R. Anthony, is gratified over his condition.

THE IDES OF MARCH

ARE COME AND MANY NO DOUBT GLAD.

MEANS RESTLESSNESS

Vernal Equinox, Which Makes a Change in All Nature, Human Being Not Excepted.

"The Ides of March are Come," and those superstitious persons who believe as did the people of old that the Ides of March were black days, will be glad they are also gone. At the present day there are few persons superstitious to that extent, though March does mean a time of restlessness and desire for change, to get away from the old routine of things. Perhaps the cause of this is the vernal equinox coming at this time, making a change in all nature, which, of course, includes all human beings. In ancient times the new year began on March 25th, and it was not until 1752 that January was chosen as the beginning of the legal year. Even today Russia still retains the old style, but has it in contemplation to adopt the Gregorian calendar at an early date. March is an important month in many ways. The Jews always celebrate Easter, that is the Passover, on the fourteenth of this month, the Christians in the same month, but always on Sunday. To make it distinctive from the Jewish celebration, Easter was changed and is now solemnized on the Sunday following the first full moon after the vernal equinox. Easter is sometimes in March, but more frequently in April, so the entire month of March is usually submerged in Lent—Lent with its prim, proper ways and straight-laced ideals. One gets a certain sense of satisfaction from being so virtuous, but it really is not the exuberance of joy that one feels when absolutely unrestrained and free from the demands of a suddenly wakeful conscience. However, there is Easter to anticipate, and joy will be all the greater for having been denied it for forty days. How true is the saying that "being good is such a lonesome job." That, too, probably accounts for the restless spirit pervading March. The changeful weather, also, may have something to do with it. Each day has a hundred varying moods—one minute bright and sunny, making the stay-at-homes glad that they did not hasten off to some warmer clime, and the next minute it is blowing and snowing so that one wishes nothing better than to sit close by the fire, basking in warmth and contentment, while listening to the winds wailing and howling outside the windows. However, one forgives all the wintry, stormy days when one little lamb-like day comes along with its breath of spring—trailing in its wake the essence of springtime, exhaling joy and the fragrance of flowers and grass, and all growing things. Spring arrived yesterday—just a little slip of a maid, wistful eyed and shy, frightened by her own temerity. But she had just as glad a welcome—for have not we been waiting all winter long for just this one day—and later she will grow bolder, then winter is not such a stern domineering ruler.—Creston Advertiser-Gazette.

PAPERS AT THAT TIME.

In 1867 Maryville Had Only One Paper, The Gazette.

The Holt county Sentinel of Oregon had the following in their last week's issue:

In 1867 the congressional district in which Holt county was placed was known as the seventh, and was composed of fifteen counties, in which the following papers were published:

Andrew, Era, at Savannah.

Atchison, Union, Herald, Empire, Volksblatt, Vindicator, all of St. Joseph.

DeKalb, Register, at Maysville.

Daviess, North Missourian and Torchlight, at Gallatin.

Gentry, News, at Albany.

Grundy, News, at Trenton.

Holt, Sentinel, at Oregon.

Livingston, Spectator and Constitution, at Chillicothe.

Mercer, Advance, at Princeton.

Nodaway, Gazette, at Maryville.

Putnam, Republican, at Unionville.

Sullivan, Herald, at Milan.

Worth, Enterprise, at Grant City.

This shows a total of twenty-one. Now there are 104 papers published in these counties, as follows:

Andrew, 4; Atchison, 5; Buchanan, 23, all in St. Joseph excepting 2 at Rushville and 1 at DeKalb. Thus Buchanan county alone has more publications at the present than these fifteen counties had in 1867. DeKalb, 7; Daviess, 9; Gentry, 9; Grundy, 5; Holt, 6; Livingston, 5; Mercer, 3; Nodaway, 14; Putnam, 4; Platte, 7; Sullivan, 6; Worth, 4. Outside of Buchanan, Nodaway has the greatest number, and Mercer county has the smallest number, three.

The counties now composing this congressional district, Atchison, Andrew, Buchanan, Holt, Nodaway and Platte, and known as the fourth district, had but ten newspapers in 1867, whereas today there are fifty-nine published in these counties.

Those existing today under the same title that were published in 1867 are the following: Journal, at Rock Port; Volksblatt, at St. Joseph; North Missourian, at Gallatin; News, at Trenton; Sentinel, at Oregon; Constitution, at Chillicothe; Republican, at Unionville.

TO IMPROVE ROADS

OVER $8 A MILE CAN BE USED FOR THIS PURPOSE.

SHOULD DRAG NOW

Townships Are Entitled to Levy Fifty Cents for Road and Bridge Purposes.

Improvement work on the 144 miles of county seat highways will start soon and County Highway Engineer Clary is now making his plans with those who have the contracts for dragging these roads. Over $8 a mile is to be spent for this work, such as grading, opening up the ditches and widening these roads. No money will be spent for improvement work unless the road is forty feet wide. This money is in the fund that was received last year and which was not used for dragging purposes, as the highways were not selected until late in the year. The money for this year will all be used for dragging.

County Highway Engineer Clary is now urging that the dragging work start, as it is the best time to do such work. The hedges are being cut along the highways and the county highway engineer is going to keep after these people who have not cut their hedges until they do. Hedges along roads whether for posts or any other purpose, must be cut and trimmed according to the law.

Townships are entitled to levy an additional tax of 25 cents on the hundred dollars for roads and bridges, making in all fifty cents they can levy. Then ten cents is received from the county. The regular township levy for roads and bridges is twenty-five cents, and the section of law in regard to the additional levy of twenty-five cents is as follows:

"The township board of directors of any township in any county which is under township organization may, annually, in their discretion, at the same time and in the same manner as taxes are now required by law to be levied for county purposes, levy an annual tax in addition to those now authorized by law in any amount not exceeding 25 cents on each one hundred dollars valuation on all property subject to taxation in such township, to be known as a special road and bridge tax."

The township boards at their annual meetings to be held in April make their road and bridge levy.

DOING GRADING WORK.

The East and North Terrace of Court House Yard Being Sloped Back Sixteen Feet.

Work started Tuesday on grading the east and north terrace of the court house yard so as to make a sloping grade back from the sidewalk. It will extend sixteen feet from the walk. As soon as the grading is done, then the sod work will be done under the direction of Doc Mozingo.

The county court at their April meeting will let the contract for building four cement sidewalks from the four corners of the yard. When the grading work is done and the sidewalks are built, the court house yard will present an attractive appearance.

English Epigrams.

The conversation of women may not be as interesting as that of men, but there is more of it.

It is when riches take unto themselves wings that they feather other people's nests.

The man who has everything in his wife's name hasn't any confidence in himself.

The best way to make a man trust you is to trust him with some unimportant little secret.

It isn't the man who will stick at nothing, but the man who will stick to one thing who wins in the long run.—London Tatler.

Some Extremes in Nutrition.

Amid all the discussion at present regarding the food requirements of healthy man it is interesting to compare the extremes which come to light in different parts of the world. Nothing can more effectively warn against dogmatic statements about our dietary needs than the recital of two entirely unlike experiences which have lately been published. The Danish physiologists, August and Marie Krogh, organized an expedition not long ago to investigate the dietary habits of the Eskimos at the island of Disco in western Greenland. The normal ration of these people contains enormous quantities of meat. The eating habits of the Eskimo approach those of varnivorous animals. The periods are irregular and somewhat infrequent, the meal occasionally being extended to the utmost capacity of the stomach. Despite this we are told that no nutritive disorders are apparent aside from boils and frequent nose-bleeding in the periods of overliberal eating. The physical endurance of Eskimos nourished in this way is conspicuous, as is their resistance to the rigors of the climate. The highest food consumption actually measured by the Kroghs was nearly four pounds of boiled meat in one day. This is said to be far below a record figure, however.

The other extreme is reported by Hindhede in Copenhagen. His subject was able to maintain himself in excellent efficiency for months on a diet of potatoes and margarin. The amount of potato was extremely large, amounting to four pounds a day, which few persons could manage to consume day after day. When hard work had to be performed it was necessary to increase the potato to eight pounds or more per day, with liberal additions of fat.

In the face of these extremes, says the Journal of the American Medical Association, one may well inquire whether many of the rigid rules and dietary dicta of physicians who adhere to "systems of diet" have a justification in fact. Obviously the adaptability of the human body to wide ranges of food possibilities is considerable. It is, of course, desirable to learn the limits which one cannot overstep with safety. When once these are established, however, there is usually left free play for the application of common sense, judgment and individual preferences in times of health and disease.

The evening opened with a track meet, in which all the members of the club participated, and ended with a shower for one of its members, Mrs. Theodore Boyer, formerly Miss Ona Woodward, who had become a bride since the club's last meeting. For the track meet the club members were equally divided, one-half representing the Arkoe high school and the other half the Maryville Normal training school. They contested for the standing broad grin, thirty-inch dash, shot-put and hammer throw. The Arkoe high school was victorious and was awarded a silver loving cup. At the close of this event a miscellaneous shower was given Mrs. Boyer, the principal guest of the evening. The shower consisted of many beautiful and useful presents. The guests departed declaring Miss Ramey, their new member, a royal entertainer.

VILLA CAPTURES GOMEZ PALACIO

Velasco Comes Out of Torreon Trying to Check Invaders.

HOT FIGHTING IS IN PROGRESS

Rebel Wounded in Large Numbers Borne to El Verjel—Insurrectos Occupy Lerdo—They Capture Place Almost Without Resistance.

Juarez, Mex., March 24.—It was reported that General Velasco came out of Torreon in force and that Gomez Palacio was being made the point of main contention. General Villa was said to have captured 300 prisoners. His wounded, it was also reported, were being brought back from the front to El Verjel in large numbers.

Fighting of the most sanguinary character occurred in the streets of Gomez Palacio. The rebels took the water tank on Cerrero de la Pilar, the Brittingham soap factory and the cuartel.

The cuartel caught fire and the rebels were compelled to abadnon it. The battle is reported still in progress. Streams of wounded are being brought to the field hospital at Verjel and as fast as possible being sent back to the general hospital at Bermejillo. Losses on both sides are reported heavy, but General Villa says the town is now practically his.

The real attack on Torreon began when General Villa occupied Lerdo, practically without resistance.

Approved in Washington.

Washington, March 24.—Frank approval of the action of the American troopers who returned the fire of Mexican federals at Del Rio was expressed here in official circles.

BULLETS FLY IN PARIS COURT

Three Shots Fired at Judges by Madame Lavigne.

Paris, March 24.—Mme. Lavigne de Saint-Suzanne, wife of a high official of the ministry of colonies, fired three shots at the judges sitting in the sixth chamber of the palace of justice. No one was hit by the bullets. At the moment she fired she shrieked: "I will kill these base judges."

The shooting occurred during the hearing of a divorce case, in which she was a witness. One of the attorneys had just alluded to the despair of some wives who were unable to obtain justice, when the woman opened fire.

Hunt for Youth Who Killed Girl.

Moberly, Mo., March 24.—One hundred men searched the country surrounding Moberly for Victor Roberts, the youth who shot and killed Miss Jessie Davall, his sixteen-year-old sweetheart. A coroner's jury gave a verdict declaring Roberts the girl's murderer. The friends of the girl and her blind father made threats of lynching if Roberts is captured. Jealousy is said to have caused Roberts to shoot the girl.

Gets $12,000 for Injury to Her Son.

Seattle, March 24.—A jury in the United States district court returned a verdict against the Southern Pacific Railroad company for $12,000 damages in the case of a youth thrown off a passenger train while stealing a ride. The plaintiff in the suit was Mrs. Elizabeth Gobel, who alleged that her son, Harry C. Gobel, had been permanently incapacitated.

Blame for Fire in Club Not Fixed.

St. Louis, March 24.—The coroner's jury that investigated the death of thirty persons in the Missouri Athletic club fire two weeks ago could not fix the blame for the disaster, the jury reported, because the city ordinances do not provide for the regulation of buildings used for club purposes.

Weighty Resolutions.

The fondness of the negro race to have as many committees as possible at all their conventions and the predilection of the committeemen for adopting resolutions, is widely known. A Puebloan, in speaking of this recently told of a committee which had been appointed by an Afro-American church down south. This committee was to determine what to do about a large leak which had appeared in the roof of the church building. The chairman, in making his report the following Sunday, read:

Resolved, That we, the committee on repairs, do find that a big hole has come in the top of the meetin' house; and,

Resolved, That the rain pours down through it on the just and the unjust; and,

Resolved, That this congregation has no money to repair the big hole at this time; and,

Resolved, That this congregation has no money for buildin' a new meetin' house; therefore, be it

Resolved, That this congregation stay whar it am, an' quit kickin' 'bout what de Lord done sen' us.—Pueblo Chieftain.

Facts About Western Canada

The farmer of today is recognized as a business man and puts himself on the pay roll at a salary beyond the dreams of the average man in the city, and he pays dividends on his investment.

Nowhere is he in a better position to realize the full profit of this condition than in Western Canada, with the rich productive soil at small cost and splendid markets; realizing from 40 to 100 per cent on his investment and obtaining the independence that cannot belong to any other business man.

The 433,000,000 bushel grain crop of Saskatchewan and Alberta yielded $235,000,000 to the farmers last year. This represents the partial yield of less than 15 per cent of the available land under cultivation. Millions upon millions of acres of the finest arable land in the world awaits the plough—YOUR PLOUGH.

The annual increase in the world's population establishes an ever-growing market, and nowhere can you find more ideal conditions for grain raising than Western Canada affords. Grain growing, however, is but one item in the success of the Canadian farmer.

Our first excursion to this country of opportunity will be April 7th. For rates and terms see
